THE STORY BEHIND THIS BOOKLET

This booklet is now available to every known descendant of John Wm. Harvey and his wife, Jemima Nottingham Harvey. I have sent it to you with the thought that you and your descendants may be interested in knowing about your many "Harvey" cousins, now scattered throughout the United States, England and New Zealand. I have located over 190 such descendants, including yourself. It is thought that less than 5 remain to be found.

The name of "Harvey" has all but disappeared among these descendants. Those of you who now bear other family names may scarcely recall your relationship to the "Harveys," but may remember one of the following ten Harveys (children of John and Jemima Harvey) as a grandparent or great-grandparent:

- |                                    |                              |
|------------------------------------|------------------------------|
| 1. Thomas Harvey                   | 6. Sarah Harvey Lucas        |
| 2. Mary Ann "Polly" Harvey Pincham | 7. Emily Harvey Strong       |
| 3. Fanny Harvey Porter             | 8. Rose Martha Harvey Briggs |
| 4. Joseph Harvey                   | 9. Carrie Harvey Daveney     |
| 5. John James Harvey               | 10. George Harvey (no issue) |

The above are not arranged in the order of birth, nor is any chronological order observed in the pages that follow. Names were entered in my records more or less in the order they were traced.

This work had its origin with my first cousin, Arthur R. Harvey, who like myself is a grandson of Thomas Harvey. "Art" gathered together numerous notes left by our grandfather about his family, and made a preliminary "tree" chart which inspired us to trace our relatives further. Finding a few addresses among the effects of my mother and grandmother Harvey, I wrote letters. Each relative I "discovered" told me about others who could add to the story.

As a result, I have had three years of fun, writing and receiving hundreds of letters from relatives long since forgotten or never before known about. I have also derived much pleasure from visiting many of you, and hope to visit many more.

I am greatly indebted to at least thirty of you who have corresponded with me and assisted me in gathering the brief biographical sketches in this booklet. Without your assistance, this booklet would not have been possible.

I offer apologies for the brevity of the information known about some of our relatives, as well as for any errors which may have inadvertently been quoted here. Corrections or additions to these notes will be gratefully received.

KEY TO NUMERICAL SYSTEM

In order that the reader may quickly see the relationship of each person in this booklet to others, each person mentioned has been assigned a number. If your number begins with the digit "1" you are descended from Thomas Harvey; if with the digit "2," you are descended from Mary Ann Harvey Pincham, etc., the ten brothers and sisters being numbered as follows:

- |                                    |                          |
|------------------------------------|--------------------------|
| 1. Thomas Harvey                   | 6. Sarah Harvey Lucas    |
| 2. Mary Ann "Polly" Harvey Pincham | 7. Emily Harvey Strong   |
| 3. Fanny Harvey Porter             | 8. Rose Harvey Briggs    |
| 4. Joseph Harvey                   | 9. Carrie Harvey Daveney |
| 5. John James Harvey               | 10. George Harvey        |

A child of No. 1 would be No. 11 or 12 or 13, etc. A child of No. 2 would be No. 21, 22, 23, etc.

A child of No. 21 would be No. 211 or No. 212, etc., and a child of No. 211 would be No. 2111 or No. 2112.

Thus, it will be seen that the "first" generation is numbered with only one digit; the "second" generation with two digits, and so on.

A person numbered 26111 is a child of No. 2611; he is a grandchild of No. 261; a great-grandchild of No. 26; and a great-great-grandchild of No. 2. No attempt has been made to number persons in the order of their birth.

HOW TO DETERMINE YOUR RELATIONSHIP TO OTHERS

Persons having the same grandparent are first cousins. Persons having the same great-grandparents are second cousins; the same great-great-grandparent, third cousins, and so on. The child of your first cousin is your first cousin once removed; your first cousin's grandchild is your first cousin twice removed (and you are also his first cousin twice removed), etc.

In the numerical system of this booklet, all persons numbered with one digit, Nos. 1 to 10, inclusive, are brothers and sisters, as noted above. Therefore, all persons numbered with two digits (children of Nos. 1 to 10) are first cousins to one another (or brothers and sisters).

All persons numbered with three digits are at least second cousins to one another. Of course, if the first digit of their numbers are alike (for example 111 and 121,) they are first cousins, since they have the same grandparent, No. 1. If the first two digits are alike (for example 121 and 122) they are brothers, children of No. 12.

If you are a member of the fourth generation, and your number thus has four digits, it may amaze you to note how many third cousins you have who are listed here! —for all other persons listed with four-digit numbers are at least your third cousins. Of course, if their first digit is the same as yours, they are your second cousins; if the first two digits are the same, they are first cousins.

DESCENDANTS OF JOHN WILLIAM HARVEY (b. 1811) AND HIS WIFE, JEMIMA NOTTINGHAM (b. 1823)

John William Harvey married Jemima Nottingham, October 30th, 1843, at the Parish Church of Great Marlow, Buckinghamshire, England, and it is from this union that those persons in this booklet are descended.

John Harvey was born at High Wycombe, Buckinghamshire, about 1811. He was the son of William Harvey, of High Wycombe, who married Mary Spicer at the High Wycombe Parish Church, August 16, 1807. Becoming a paper-mill worker early in life, John moved to London about 1859 to work for the Royal Paper Mills of Wandsworth, makers of book and news papers, and was foreman in these mills for several years.

Jemima Nottingham, wife of John Harvey, was born about 1823, probably at Marlow, Buckinghamshire, the daughter of James and Sarah Chappell Nottingham; the latter was the daughter of George and Lydia Chappell. Sarah Chappell was baptized at High Wycombe March 29, 1778. The Nottingham family were chair-makers.

John and Jemima Harvey died about 1885 and are buried in the Old Wandsworth Cemetery, Garratt Lane, London. They had ten children, as follows (numbered 1 to 10 in the extreme left margin):

Their two sons were born in England, the first in Wandsworth in 1866, the second in Theale, near Reading, in 1868.

Thomas Harvey came to the U.S. in 1871-2, later sending for his wife and children after he had obtained employment at the F. R. Walker Paper Mills in Burnside, Conn., near Hartford. Later, he worked at the following paper mills in the U.S. and Canada:
